Grant and His Traducers

[From the New York Sun June 3]

It would be highly desirable if the pending national canvass could be conducted without being disfigured with gross personal attacks upon the respective Presidential candidates. But this does not comport with the tactics of some of the leading journals on both sides. They are nothing if not vituperative. The Democratic candidates not being yet in the course, the Radicals have not now so wide a field for the display of their execrating rhetoric as will be opened to them on the adjournment of the July Convention. In the meantime the type of journals we have mentioned on the Democratic side have commenced their peculiar attacks on General Grant. They have pretty much abandoned the allegation of intemperance, and seem to rest their objections to his election mainly on the charges that he has changed his name and smokes incessantly, and is a butcher in shoulder straps.

They insist that the Chicago nominee is trying to pass himself off under an alias, and that his real name is Hiram Ulysses Grant. Young Grant was admitted in the Academy at West Point on the recommendation of Hon Thomas L Hamer, an able Democratic member of Congress from Ohio, who was afterwards a General of volunteers in the Mexican war, and gallantly led his brigade in the desperate assault upon Monterey, where, by the by, his protege distinguished himself as a Second Lieutenant. Hamer enrolled his young friend's name at the Academy as Ulysses S., and if he was not christened by that name in infancy, he has since been baptized into it with the fire and blood of a hundred battles in defense of the flag of the Union, so that it will doubtless answer to swear him in by next March.

Grant smokes, and the Anti Tobacco League selecting the ascetic World as their organ, have issued a funny address against him. It cannot be denied that Grant arrested the eye of the nation by his proclivity to smoke. He smoked at Fremont, at Donelson, and at Pittsburg Landing. He smoked furiously at Vicksburg, at Chattanooga, at the Wilderness, and at Spottsylvania, and kept it up all summer until he reached Petersburg. He smoked around Petersburg and Richmond for nine months, and took a final smoke with General Lee under the famous Appomattox apple tree. The old adage assures us that a good deal of smoke must necessarily be accompanied by some fire, and it must be admitted that on all these occasions Grant did much of his smoking under fire.

But Grant they say is a butcher. Having wholly retired from the army in 1854 and gone into the tanning business, he would doubtless have remained content to the end of his days in the slaughter of animals for the sake of their hides had not the South plunged into a rebellion that cost the lives of a million of men. Grant participated in this strife, but it so happens that all his efforts were directed to putting a stop to the carnage at the earliest possible day. While the conflict raged, he dealt heavy blows, but the people do not doubt that his decisive style of conducting the war was far more economical of blood than the dawdling mode of some of his colleagues. Nor do they forget that his demand for an unconditional surrender at Fort Donelson stayed the slaughter which had raged around it for three days; that through his negotiation with Pemberton he received the key of the Mississippi Valley, thus avoiding the carnage which would have attended an assault on Vicksburg; that in the celebrated letter to Lee which brought the Confederate chief to a conference, Grant though he might have won a good deal of vulgar glory by hurling his elated battalions upon the reeling lines of Lee, urged him to come to a parley, and as a further effusion of blood. And the liberal terms he yielded to the Confederate General and his army showed that so far from being a hardened butcher who loved to riot in carnage he was a generous soldier, who was unwilling to wound even the feelings of his fallen antagonists.

Attacks upon the political principles of Grant and upon the public policy he is presumed to favor are a legitimate mode of warfare. But petty witticisms about his name and vulgar criticisms of his social habits, and more especially serious attempts to depreciate his military fame, will not injure him, though the recoil of such weapons may overthrow those who resort to them.

Union Prisoners at the South

To the editor of the Chicago Tribune—Sir: I have noticed a communication in a late number of the Times—purporting to be written by somebody who had been an Andersonville prisoner—the whole tenor of which takes all blame from the rebels and places it upon the prisoners themselves.

What an infamous libel upon the memories of the martyrs who perished in that horrible hell on earth! I ask, why is it that the rebels were not to blame for the sickness and death that reigned with almost unobstructed sway over the unfortunate inmates of Andersonville when they stripped men of nearly all their clothing and turned them bootless and hatless into the prison pen with no possibility of obtaining shelter from the fierce heat of the sun in the daytime, and the cold heavy dew at night?

Why is it that they were not to blame for the deaths of so many men, when their surgeons absolutely refused to take men into the hospital until actually at the point of death and too late to do any good? Why was it that at sick call in the morning when the candidates for hospital were carried out at the south gate of the prison for examination, that the few accepted were in some cases allowed to lay in the sand exposed to the heat of a Georgia sun until noon, before being conveyed to the hospital, unless they intended to kill as many as possible by disease and neglect? Why did they allow the filth of the rebel camps and of the prison cook house to be emptied into the sluggish stream that passed through the prison, our only dependence for water, if it was not their deliberate intention to poison those they could not murder by other means?

Why did they not furnish sufficient wood to cook the raw rations they sometimes issued when we were located in the midst of forests if they were as this man claims doing the best they could under the circumstances?

I know of several men being shot when they were not near the dead line, and in one instance two were killed by one ball when sleeping, but as they were nothing but "Yankees" no attention was paid to the circumstance, and one poor fellow whose sufferings had rendered him nearly idiotic was murdered in cold blood when reaching under the dead line for a piece of mouldy bread. I could, if necessary, enumerate many instances of the kind.

In Florence, South Carolina, where I was confined during the winter of 64-65, I have seen rebel officers shoot into crowds entirely without reason.

It was a common thing for our scanty rations to be cut off for one day at a time. But in one instance, where the ration consisted of only one pint of corn meal per man, it was cut off for two days in succession. Many starved to death in consequence, being so nearly starved before. The rebels had the rations on hand, but to gratify the malice of the prison commandant we were starved.

I can easily prove all of the above by fellow prisoners, and I know it was true from personal observation.

R. STILLMAN,
Late Sergeant Major 85th N Y Volunteers

THE MERCURY'S VIEWS.—The Sunday Mercury of New York is a Democratic journal, and one of influence too, for it claims to have the largest circulation of any Sunday paper published in the United States. In a recent issue it says:

The result of the approaching political struggle will be very materially affected by the character of the nominee whom the Democracy may place before the people. Its leaders may as well wake up from their Rip Van Winkle slumber and adapt their performances to the resurrected spirit of the age. The issues that were joined for popular decision in times preceding the war are as obsolete now as those of the Sabbath-breaking ... and any party that hopes to grapple with the problems of the present must recognize the changes through which the country has passed and be prepared to lead the van in the march of progress. The country has gone through a revolution that has produced a new state of things, and imposed new duties and responsibilities upon parties and individuals.

The Toledo Blade says that nothing can be plainer than that Andrew Johnson is at the head of the Whisky Ring. Is that the circle he went round?

Miscellaneous Items

Eve is said to be the only woman who never threatened to go and live with her mother.

One of the Mississippi papers calls for the formation of Democratic associations among the negroes in that State.

The New Albany Commercial says the prairies of Iowa will be vocal this summer with the melancholy music "Old Grimes is dead."

Senator Ross has been notified by some of his constituents that he need not go to the trouble of coming home to commit suicide.

The Marquis de Caux, who married Patti, won the pool of a million francs made up by the Paris Jockey Club on the last Derby.

Exciting competition in the paper collar trade in North Bridgewater, Massachusetts, has carried the price down to one cent a box.

George A Johnson, who returns one of the largest incomes in Massachusetts outside of Boston, made his fortune out of pop corn.

General Grant was born in April 1822, Schuyler Colfax in March 1823. There is consequently less than a year's difference in their age.

In the Springfield Register we find an article beginning: "When the nation boils the Democrats will come to the top at the next election."

A grim old Judge, hearing a flowery discourse from a pretentious young barrister, advised him to pluck out the feathers from the wings of his imagination and stick them in the tail of his judgement.

The New York World is enthusiastic about the irreproachable character of Chief Justice Chase just now. How long is it since the World was abusing Mr Chase for "dragging the judicial ermine in the mire" by alleged electioneering among the Southern blacks.

Says a California paper to the voters of that State: In a few months you will be called upon to vote for Electors in this State. The Democrats ask you to vote for their candidates, three of whom, Dibble, Kewen and Wallace, were leading California Know Nothings, who stumped this State in favor of burning Catholic churches and disfranchising all foreigners. Will foreigners kiss the hands that struck them? We shall see.

Schuyler Colfax is a printer regularly trained in the craft. He is the first printer ever nominated for so high an office as the Vice Presidency. In fact he is the nonpareil of printers, the pearl of the craft, and No 1 diamond type of a man. He will make a capital Vice President, and although the noblest Roman of them all, the Italics will support him in an emphatic manner. His popularity is without a ‖, and will make the opposition see .—Detroit Post.

HARD TO BEAT.—Away up in Virginia city, says the Dramatic Chronicle, they have a certain Southern Union man of the ultra school, who swears by General Grant and thinks that Colfax is "the next best man in all creation." This irrepressible Colonel was, according to the Enterprise, recently called upon to make a speech at a Grant ratification meeting over the mountains. Having concluded a regular thunder and lightning speech, the Colonel was about to take his seat when an important Democrat of the Hibernian persuasion, who was hanging onto the verge of the meeting, sang out:

"It's aisy talkin', Kunnel Carrol, Carrol, but be Jabers we sho' you something next Fall!" The old Colonel at once faced about, and with hands uplifted, his hair bristling, his eyes flashing fire, cried out, "Build a worm fence round a Winter's supply of Summer's weather, skim the clouds from the sky with a teaspoon, catch a thunderbolt in a bladder, break a hurricane to harness, ground sluice an earthquake, bake hell in an ice house, lasso an avalanche, pin a dipper on the crater of an active volcano, have all the stars in a nail keg, hang the ocean on a grape-vine to dry, put the sky to soak in a gourd, unbuckle the bellyband of eternity and paste 'To Let' on the sun and moon, but never, sir—never for a moment, sir, delude yourself with the idea that any ticket of your party can beat Grant and Colfax."

MR JOHNSON AND GEN MEADE.—Reports are in circulation that the President is not very well satisfied with the official acts of Gen Meade, and Mr Johnson finds one cause of complaint in a very curt general order lately issued by General Meade, wherein the President is really the principal person reprimanded. It appears that the Captain Hollister was tried, found guilty and sentenced to be cashiered, and that General Meade approved the same and sent the record to Mr Johnson, and the following extract from the order referred to tells the story in General Meade's own language:

Captain Hollister was tried before a court-martial of his peers, composed of officers mostly of other regiments, and was found guilty of absence without leave, drunkenness on duty, and conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, and was sentenced by the court to be cashiered. After a careful examination of the proceedings of the court, the Major General commanding deemed it his duty to approve the same and forward them for the approval of the President of the United States. The President having ordered a commutation of the sentence of the court to a reprimand in general orders by the General commanding the department, Captain Hollister is accordingly reprimanded, and, on receipt of the order, at the post at which he is serving will return to duty.

A London correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, speaking of the Cambridge degree conferred upon Longfellow and his popularity in England, says: It is literally true that a volume of his poems is found in nearly every English home. If you go into the drawing room of one of the middle classes in any of the towns a volume of Longfellow's poems is on the center table. When I was at a public school thirty boys had each a copy of Longfellow. Passionate lovers search his poems for tender lines wherewith to touch the heart. No young lady's collection of pianoforte music is complete without Excelsior. An excellent bass singer (Weiss) died the other day, whose reputation was chiefly made by his mode of singing "The Village Blacksmith," which he had himself set to music. There is no living English poet who has half the circle of readers in England that Longfellow possesses. As I write I can call to mind editions of his works in all shapes and forms of which English publishing admits. I have seen him heavy with gold and beautiful in the best of engravings. I know him in green and blue in Russia, in cloth, in paper covers. He is gilt-edged, marble-edged and plain. I have read him in types so large that Methuselah would not have wanted spectacles in deciphering him, and I have looked with curiosity at pages where anything less than a microscope would have been of little service. Every farmer's wife has a Longfellow, if she has only a dozen books in her case.

The New York Herald says that "the old died in the wool copperheads don't want a National Conservative first class statesman for President like Chase, and as they can't find a soldier to suit them they must be in search of another poor Pierce—some Democratic obscurity against whom nothing can be said because nothing is known of him."

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY

The entries of land at the Land Office at Olympia during the month of June amounted to 11 411 acres.

The editor of the Walla Walla Statesman calls upon the Legislature of the Territory for "a more stringent divorce law."

A mail route and post office are asked for in the county of Yakima. This is an organized county, and the population is rapidly increasing.

The Nachess Pass through the Cascade mountains, by which the Sound people reach the Yakima country, is completely obstructed by fallen timber.

The flag ship of the North Pacific Squadron, the Vanderbilt, arrived at Olympia on Wednesday. She is second rate screw, 11 484 new tonnage, carrying twenty guns and about three hundred men.

The Transcript learns that a man named Martin was struck on the head with a rock, at Mukilteo, on the 4th, in the hands of another man named Logan, and has since died from his injuries. Logan was brought up on the Mary Woodruff on Thursday to the Steilacoom jail.

The Olympia Transcript discourses as follows on the terminus question: "The terminus question is being much discussed, mainly from a personal, one-sided point of view, yet there are a few cool, rational men in every part of the country, men who let common sense rather than self-interest dictate their decisions. All such men agree in the opinion that Olympia has five chances of six over all places combined to have the terminus location, but many say they can hardly tell themselves why they think so, only they do. There are many strong reasons, which we have heretofore enumerated, for thinking so; but the one great advantage we possess over all other places is simply our mud flats! Here we have from two to three thousand and by running it up to Tumwater might have five thousand acres of land, flats, and desirable a site on which to build a city as America knows and better than has yet been used. The hills on either side, though low, are sufficient to fill the flats up above the the tide. This land being below half tide, the line of Government surveys, is regarded as belonging to the bay, to the navigable waters of the United States and consequently has not nor cannot be claimed by any one. It is but for us to show the corporators and builders these advantages, and then by our own united action through our Delegate, induce Congress to simply include these flats in the appropriation of lands for the building of the road, and the thing is done, the terminus settled and the builders in possession of an entire town site of several thousand acres of land, that will not cost them one cent, nor will it cost the Government a cent, neither will it interfere in any manner with private citizens, but will leave us just that many acres of good land on the line of the road for settlement, which would be a great advantage to men desiring homes, while 3 000 or 4,000 of these flats would be worth more money to the company than 50 000 acres back on the line of the road away from the terminus. Ours is the natural place for the terminus, and it will be found a pretty hard business kicking against the pricks.

"THIS RADICAL CONGRESS."—Hon. ... Hamilton Ward lately made a speech in Maryland in which he said:

Who are against this radical Congress? Jeff Davis is against it. Robert E. Lee is against it. Harry Gilmore is against it. The same men that burned down your dwellings at night and made war hideous along your border, are against it. The ... hissing Northern Copperhead is against it. [Laughter and applause.] I say to you who is for it? Every mother that has lost her son, every wife that has given her husband, every one who visits the sacred graves that are sprinkled all over the land, in tears and sorrow, every lover of his country, North and South, are in favor of it.

Judge Woodward was a member of the Bench of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania during the whole of the excited canvass in which he ran as the Democratic candidate for Governor. He never resigned, nor did his term expire for several years after his defeat. But he thinks it outrageous that Gen. Grant does not resign at once. Judge Woodward is the member of Congress who said if he was President, and an attempt was made to impeach him like that tried upon Johnson, he would resist with the power of the army and navy. Of course he is a first-class Democrat.

Are the Democrats who are howling so hoarsely against the "bloated bond-holders" aware that over one billion of dollars worth are owned by the industrial classes? Yet such is the fact. Nearly one-half of the national debt being owned by those who earn their dollars by the sweat of their brow. And this debt Democrats are threatening to repudiate.

Prince and Princess Salm-Salm are sojourning in Switzerland. She is writing her "Mexican Diary," and her husband a history of the siege of Queretaro. He has in his possession a great many relics of Maximilian—among others a piece of his blood-stained ... and a large piece of his beard, and even a portion of the poor Emperor's heart, which he preserved in a small bottle.

A young man twenty-two years of age, residing in Wilbraham, Mass, boasts that he never drank a cup of tea or coffee in his life, never smoked or chewed, never tasted a drop of liquor or used a profane word, and says if he ever told a lie he had never got caught in one.

ODD FISH.—A singular fish is found in the coast rivers of Alaska. It is about eight inches long, transparent, and the most fat of all the finny tribes. This fat, however, has not the oily, rancid taste of other fish, but is like fresh lard. When these fish are dried the Indians often turn them to a novel and practical account—burn them in the place of candles.

General Sherman said: "If you admit the negro in this struggle for any purpose, he has a right to stay in for all; and when the fight is over the hand that drops the musket cannot be denied the ballot."

A story is told of a good jolly fellow who resided in Chicago four years ago, and while on an Eastern visit was asked how he liked the water out West. "By George, Mr ...," said he, after a moment's reflection, "I never thought to try it."

"Mr ... do you suppose the Lord's Prayer could be engraved on a space no bigger than the area of a nickel cent?"

"Well yes, ... if a cent is as big in everybody's eye as it is in yours, I think there would be no difficulty in putting it on about five times."

Political Offences

The late Democratic Convention [illegible] manded an amnesty for all political [illegible] ces and Andrew Johnson in response [illegible] the sentiment of the Convention proclaimed the amnesty which the party desired. There is on record in the history of the country some declarations by Andrew Johnson on this subject which may be pertinently quoted at this time. On the 24th April, 1865 ten days after he assumed the office of President he received at the White House a large number of refugees from the insurrectionary States and in response to an address in their behalf by Judge Underwood, of Virginia said

> The time has come, as you who have had to drink this bitter cup are fully aware when the American people should be made to understand the true nature of the crime of treason. There are times when mercy and clemency without justice, become crime. What should be done with the individual who assassinated the Chief Magistrate of the Nation? I know what response dwells in every bosom. It is that he should pay the forfeit with his life. And if he would say this when the case was the simple murder of one man by his fellow man what would we say when asked what shall be done with him or them who have raised impious hands to take away the life of a nation composed of thirty millions of people? It is time our people were taught to know that treason is a crime, not a mere political difference, not a mere contest between two parties in which one succeeded and the other simply failed.

Three years ago Andrew Johnson thought that rebellion was a more heinous crime than assassination, and deserved, if possible, heavier condemnation and punishment. The miscreant who took the life of President Lincoln was less guilty than those who had attempted to take the life of the nation. Then Andrew Johnson declared that treason was "not a mere political difference" which could be condoned, but that it was a crime which merited and should receive the most exemplary punishment. But now he has come round to the doctrine that treason is nothing more than "a mere political difference, a mere contest between parties in which one succeeded and the other simply failed," and hence he issues his proclamation declaring an amnesty for all "political offenses." This comparison makes it tolerably clear how far the present Administration has traveled during the last three years.

How Is It?

Horatio Seymour is a representative man of the Democratic party; his position was that maintained by the great mass of the party throughout the war; their uniform platform has been—"the Union, the Constitution and respect for the laws."—Herald.

Let us ascertain, by consulting the paper published by Bernh during the war, what the position was which was held by Horatio Seymour and the "Democratic" party. In the San Fr[illegible] Democratic Press of June, 1864, we [illegible] following [illegible] ding editorials:

The [illegible] of [illegible] the military power of the Government to [illegible] rebellion, or put down the insurrection or compelling the return of these [illegible] States to the Union by force of arms, is all false, and [illegible] at the principles upon which the Government was founded.

[illegible]

The [illegible] that Jeff. Davis is seeking the overthrow of the Government is only made by the [illegible] to an [illegible] for overthrowing it themselves. He has not [illegible] a single principle of our Constitution.

[illegible]

The right of self government has not been assailed; our [illegible] were not jeopardized, nor our Constitution impaired by the dismemberment of our territories.

In [illegible] "the position maintained by the [illegible] of the Democratic party throughout the war" is fairly set forth. Was this position in accordance with "the Union, the Constitution and the laws?" No violence was done to the Constitution by secession but it was grossly unconstitutional to "suppress rebellion," "put down insurrection," or "compel the return of the seceded States to the Union." This was Seymour's doctrine, and [illegible] tells us it was the doctrine of the [illegible] of his party. There is nothing like [illegible] to the records of old times to find [illegible] history.

BROOKS [illegible].—On the first day of the New [illegible] Convention, a document [illegible] that Sally, from which we extract the following:

We hold [illegible] to be self evident—that all men are [illegible] equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

What is the world coming to, says the Nevada Tr[illegible], [illegible] such sentiments as these are favorably [illegible] by Democrats. The reading of this document is supposed to have been a piece of strategy by the members favorable to Chase.

COMMON COUNCIL.—There was no business transacted by the Common Council last evening for the want of a [illegible] number of members to attend ance to constitute a quorum. At the appointed hour for [illegible], His Honor, the Mayor took the chair and called the board to order and upon the roll [illegible] called by the Clerk, there were present Councilmen Cree, Halleck, Porter and Ripley—4. Absent, Councilmen Barser, Breck, Burch and Hopkins—4.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—A telegram from Victoria reports that the U S steamer Suwanee which left Victoria for Alaska on the 7th inst., ran into a rock 25 miles north of Fort Rupert and will be lost. A large hole was stove in her amidships, causing her to sink, but not entirely under water. Capt. Cooper thinks a portion of her stores above water may be saved and probably her guns. No lives were lost. H B M steamer Sparrowhawk was spoken the day following the wreck, bound up, and would in a few hours reach the vessel and render assistance.

A salute of seven guns was fired yesterday afternoon from the United States ship Independence in honor of Senor Godey, Mexican Consul, who visited the vessel.

Rebel Rally at Chicago

C[illegible] J[illegible] The D[illegible] and b[illegible] ing an immense ratification meeting in the city to-morrow night. Frank Blair and Geo H Pendleton are among the speakers.

A Washington special says that Congress will probably not adjourn until after the 23d, when the end [illegible] will have expired [illegible] the bill excluding from the electoral college [illegible] states was pro[illegible] the President.

What the Enemy is Fighting for

NEW Y[illegible] July 14.—The [illegible] special says [illegible] at a Democratic ratification meeting on Saturday night Governor Vance declared that what the C[illegible] fought for would be won by the elect[illegible] of Seymour and Blair.

[illegible] Governor Wise said that while supporting the nominations he denounced as a falsehood the Tammany resolution which alleged rebellion dead. He declared that secession was more alive than ever. He especially supported Blair because he had promised to support a revolution.

From Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS July 14.—Mr Warmouth, Governor elect, was inaugurated to-day in the hall of the House of Representatives in presence of a large crowd. The oath was administered by the Chief Justice. The inaugural address was very brief and not explicit in regard to the future course of his administration.

From Alabama

MONTGOMERY, July 1[illegible].—Governor Smith and Lieut Governor Applegate were sworn in as provisional officers.

Both Houses have perfected their organization and both have ratified the 14th amendment.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The House spent the evening session in discussing the financial question.

At an informal meeting of Republican Senators yesterday it was decided to confirm Mr Evarts as Attorney General.

NEW ORLEANS July 14.—Gov Warmouth has notified Gen Buchanan of his inauguration whereupon the latter issued an order notifying all military officers that civil laws are now supreme in Louisiana, and instructing civil officers under military appointment to turn over their offices to their successors who have been elected.

From Mississippi.

JACKSON July 14.—Gov Humphrey and family were yesterday ejected from the Executive mansion by military authorities.

It is claimed that the Democrats carried the recent election in this State by gross frauds.

From Florida

Washburn's communications to Headquarter's state that the public property, records, archives etc, of the State of Florida have been turned over to civil authorities and the military government is entirely withdrawn.

Gen Grant is not expected to return to Washington before the middle of September.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The credentials of Wm Pitt White, appointed to succeed Johnson from Maryland was presented and he was sworn.

Trumbull called up the bill to authorize the temporary filling of vacancies in the Executive department, which was passed.

Mr Cattell called up the bill to authorize an issue of three per cent temporary loan certificate to redeem the compound interest notes. After a lengthy discussion, Sherman insisted on regular order.

The funding bill was then taken up and Mr Hendricks made an elaborate political speech in reply to some recently delivered.

Mr Cole delivered a prepared speech after an executive session and the Senate adjourned.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Alaska bill. The question being first on Butler's appeal from the decision of the Chair ruling out of order the amendment to reserve half a million for the satisfaction of the claims of citizens against the Russian Government. The decision of the Chair was sustained by 92 against 27.

Mr Loughbridge offered a substitute, declaring after many preambles, that the assent of Congress is given to the stipulation of the treaty, but declaring that the extension of citizenship and the appropriation of money are subjects submitted by the Constitution to Congress. This was adopted by 71 to 34.

Mr Elliott offered an amendment that hereafter no purchase of foreign territory be made until a provision be made by law for payment.

Mr Button again attempted to get in his amendment to reserve half a million. Ruled out of order. The committee rose and reported the bill to the House.

Mr Loughbridge's amendment was adopted. Mr Elliott's was rejected by 70 to 80. The bill then passed by 114 to 42.

The report of the Committee of Conference on sundry expenses in the Civil Appropriation bill was considered without final action.

The Senate amendments to the bill to authorize a temporary supply of the vacancies in the Executive Department were non concurred in.

A recess was then taken till evening.

The Weather.

CHICAGO, July 14.—The most intense hot weather prevails throughout the entire country. Cases of sun stroke are reported from all quarters. So many hot days in a season were never before known. At Madison, Wisconsin, the thermometer has averaged 96° since the 1st of the month sometimes reaching 109° in the shade.

West Indies.

HAVANA, July 11.—The cholera is decreasing in violence and extent.

The Narva had succeeded in raising a mile of the new telegraph cable, when the machinery lost its hold and the cable sunk to the bottom.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senor Romero yesterday delivered his letters of recall as Minister Plenipotentiary of the Mexican Republic. The usual compliments were made.

NEW YORK July 14.—A Havana special says that Salnave's troops attacked the Cacos rebels at Port Range and were repulsed with considerable loss. The same dispatch announces other rebel successes.

SANTA FE, July 13.—Government officers crossed into the new Territory. The last of the Navajo Indians and their stock were taken from Albuquerque yesterday, under the new treaty.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

LONDON, July 13.—At a review of troops at Madrid, yesterday the Commanding General made a speech to the soldiers, warning them against any demonstrations of sympathy with the movement against the Queen.

In the House of Lords last night it was announced that the royal assent had been given to the Irish and Scotch reform bill and boundary bill.

A son of the late King Theodore has arrived in England and has gone to Osborne on a visit to the Queen.

CARLSRUHE, July 14.—Minister Bancroft has arrived and opened negotiations for the ratification of the naturalization treaty.

THE TEACHERS ARE [illegible] —We learn that the rumor of the discharge of [illegible] teachers [illegible] schools, was not unfounded [illegible] at the close of the term the teachers w[illegible] part of them we do not know [illegible] might consider them [illegible] term. We hear [illegible] assigned [illegible] sent themselves [illegible] pupils [illegible] It seems have used such books as have been selected by the Super[illegible] books have been criminal enough to teach some [illegible] which our present Democratic [illegible] like—[illegible] as that loyalty to our country is one of the first obligations of a good citizen [illegible] patriotism a few other ridiculous and dangerous [illegible] The teachers, too have [illegible] ing their pupils to sing such [illegible] anti Democratic songs as Rally Round the Flag Boys March[illegible] Through Georgia [illegible] calculated to warp the youthful mind [illegible] the subsequent reception [illegible] made of. These things were not to be tolerated under a Democratic adm[illegible] packing The songs and the [illegible] hereafter be of a different sort [illegible] Democratic [illegible] are desire to have no anti Democratic impressions made upon the growing generation [illegible] altogether That would be a much shorter cut to the desired end

PORTLAND ACADEMY —The examination of classes of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary began yesterday morning and was continued through the day The [illegible] under consideration were [illegible] Algebra and Botany with Latin and Greek classes The course of study and discipline in this school has been thorough and effective and its results were plainly seen in the intelligence and readiness of the pupils [illegible] undergoing their rigid examination yesterday The visitors and [illegible] by the patrons of the school of whom a considerable number were present expressed themselves as highly [illegible] with all they saw and heard The examination will continue through this forenoon in the studies of Grammar Geometry and History This afternoon the addresses by the graduates will be delivered and the diplomas will be presented by Dr. Watkins President of the Board of Trustees The invitations for the exercises are limited to trustees ministers, patrons of the school and members of the press

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON JUDGE.—The following were the proceedings of yesterday in the Circuit Court

State of Oregon vs D B Hannah motion for change of venue overruled W Lair Hill for plaintiff Wait, Gibbs & Farrish for defendant

Application was made before Judge Upton by A Myers, A C R Shaw [illegible] J Soulak and J O Watt for an injunction against the city and Ferry Baker to restrain the defendants from changing the grade of 6th street between Harrison and College streets Injunction denied

Lander vs M[illegible] et al motion for new trial overruled Judgment of [illegible] $4 [illegible] Chadwick and C [illegible] for plaintiff J F Caples for defendants

Lydia McBride vs J hn M [illegible] decree of divorce granted

Lappeus vs Jacobi, discontinued

C P Ferry et al vs Bacon & Newell dismissed Page and Bybee for plaintiffs B Huelat for defendants

Court adjourned to the 23d inst.

DALLES ITEMS.—The following items are from the Commercial s dispatch of last evening The man Johnson who was reported lost several days ago was tracked to Hood river, and it was supposed he was drowned while trying to cross the stream There were no lives lost on Friday last, in the attempt to bring the two schooners over the Dalles One of the boats was wrecked the other came over all right The river is falling rapidly The weather is warm and pleasant Considerable freight is being shipped to the interior on prairie schooners. The [illegible] of the city is rather quiet News just received from Ochoco Valley says that emigrants are flocking in from the Willamette Valley and fast settling up that section of country Several large droves of stock have arrived from west of the mountains

THE MINES OF EASTERN OREGON.—We met yesterday an old acquaintance who has spent several seasons in the [illegible] of Idaho and Eastern Oregon He is now just from Baker county where he has been mining this summer. He represents the mines of that county to be exceedingly dull the miners being mostly without water to carry on operations with There has been no water [illegible] since early in the spring Great numbers [illegible] some going to other mines others returning to [illegible] and California, while many are going overland to the States Those who have had water have been doing as well as usual In the regions of Shasta and Willow Creeks, comparatively few men are staying with their [illegible] waiting for fall rains

THE BETH ISRAEL SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—Quite a number of patrons and friends of the Beth Israel School [illegible] at the examination, yesterday and the common [illegible] to be that the pupils have been exceedingly well taught. The pupils are nearly all quite [illegible] the average age being perhaps not greater than eight or ten years, yet their proficiency in geography [illegible] reading, penmanship etc would do credit to [illegible] of fifteen to sixteen years Miss Phillips has most unquestionably established her right to be considered an unusually efficient instructor

CROPS.—The Unionist says A gentleman who has [illegible] traveled in Yamhill Polk, Benton and Lane counties a good deal, tells us that the crops of grain are [illegible] large in extent and unusually good in quality He thinks the quantity of wheat raised in those three [illegible] in 1868 will be larger than in any previous year by at least fifty per cent The La Grande Times says [illegible] and ranchmen have begun making hay The [illegible] is said to be light though the grass is still green and growing.

[illegible].—The following were the receipts of [illegible] Per Wenat 40 sacks oats 2 boxes eggs [illegible] bales woolen goods 1 thresher and 8 pieces [illegible], 2 boxes eggs, 7 cases butter 2 cases fur [illegible] The Cusick on Tuesday brought up from [illegible] 55 half barrels salmon 5 cases smoked salmon [illegible] 47 cases canned salmon 5 cases smoked salmon [illegible] 8 bales wool 2 boxes [illegible] box stone, 1 box clams and 1 000 feet lumber

THE JAIL.—Don t start nobody has got out and run [illegible] The jail has not been broken open from the in[illegible] has any prisoner escaped. Jacobi has the keys [illegible] in his pocket, but the jail is open and in possession of the Marshalship, J H. Lappeus Keys were [illegible] yesterday, and willing hands to turn them [illegible] now having possession of the building It will not be necessary for the Council to buy or build a new jail [illegible] that is now wanted is a set of new keys. Let [illegible] be made at once

[illegible] Gov Woods and family and J C Cartwright and family arrived in this city last evening en route for Astoria and Clatsop beach Gov Woods is going for the benefit of his health which has not been [illegible] months, robust; and Mr Cartwright is going on [illegible] connected with the title of the United States to the [illegible] House block recently purchased from Judge [illegible]

ARRIVED —The schooner Crosby R S [illegible] master arrived at 4 o clock yesterday morning from Nanaimo, [illegible] with coal for the Gas Light Co She is discharging at the Co s dock Capt Perkins informs us [illegible] Victoria on the 4th and was eight days in [illegible] Cape Flattery being a part of the time becalmed in the Straits and a part of the time in Neah [illegible] in consequence of a [illegible] water

INCORPORATION.—Messrs C M Carter Stephen Coffin [illegible] worth W S Newby, E W Haines and [illegible], yesterday filed articles of incorporation styled [illegible] The McMinnville Water and Manufacturing Company The object of the company is declared to be to take water from the Yamhill river and convey it to the town of McMinnville for manufacturing and other [illegible] Capital stock $100 000 in shares of $250 each [illegible] HOUSE AT ASTORIA.—The Record says We [illegible] that Hon Cyrus Olney has sold the Government a site for a Custom House at Astoria J C Cartwright Esq U S District Attorney has been instructed to examine the titles for the Government and [illegible] today for Astoria to make the investigations J [illegible] Olney is appointed superintendent of the construction of the C[illegible] House which we learn is to be immediately built.

U S DISTRICT COURT—DEADY JUDGE.—The following were the proceedings yesterday

The Willamette Iron Works had leave to file claim [illegible] the steamboat Rainier

[illegible] States vs Joseph Hess; [illegible] action for penalties argued and submitted [illegible] the jury Dolph for the United States Logan and [illegible] for the defendant. The jury were still out at a late [illegible] evening.

[illegible] TRUE.—The Lafayette Courier is making warfare upon the East side railroad J W [illegible] is extremely and severely facetious [illegible] of handling the name of A J Cook & Co [illegible] considering the opposition we incline to [illegible] that the East Side Company had better abandon their [illegible] We really can see no [illegible] of their

[illegible].—The Daily Record of yesterday has the [illegible] announcement The publication of the Daily [illegible] will be suspended for a short time from this date [illegible] to settle up business matters and [illegible] that ar[illegible] for the future [illegible] this step [illegible] we hope to present a better paper to the

[illegible] SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Mr A B Richardson [illegible] today sold for the owners lot 4 in block 79 for the sum of $3,000 coin The lot is situated on the west side of First street, between Oak and Pine It was sold to Mr D. F Harrington without the buildings

[illegible] MAGIC.—This is the name of the washing machine lately invented by the Messrs Pike at Astoria. Mr Sawyer has received the right to manufacture and [illegible] contracts with parties here to make a lot im[illegible]

[illegible] IN TRAINING.—We learn that the horses whose [illegible] contemplate entering them for the races at the [illegible] county fair are already in training on the [illegible] near Hillsboro

TRAVEL.—There has scarcely been a time within the last two years when there was so little travel [illegible] as now The boats in every direction go with a [illegible] account of passengers and [illegible]

MILL MACHINERY.—The Willamette Iron Works has just concluded a contract to build the machinery for a grist mill for Messrs Harper & Smith of British Columbia.

A COMET.—It is said that a comet is visible in the northern heavens. We have not seen it and shall wait for an [illegible] before making any personal remarks

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamship Active will sail for Victoria and Nanaimo at 7 o clock P M on Friday next

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits Constipation Colic Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a General Tonic HOSTETTER S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

God's Blessing on Them

BY GERALD MASSEY

God bless the brave ones in our earth
Their lines of all leave a trailing glory
And God the prosperous [illegible]
Will proudly tell their suffering story

All saviour souls have sacrificed
When nought but noble failing guerdon
And o'er the world hath crowned the Christ
The man to death hath borne the burden

The sage broke the glass that brought
The heavens nearer to the light
Even to the bigots welcome night
That makes our wisdom star forego [illegible]

They lay their [illegible] stones in dark
Deep waters who upbuild in beauty
On earth a ld heart their triumph are
That crowns with glory lives of duty

And meekly still the martyrs go
To keep with pain their solemn bridal
And still they walk the fire who bow
Not down to worship Custom's idol

Take heart! the rude dust dark to-day
Soars a new lighted sphere to-morrow!
And wings of splendor burst the clay
That clasps up in death a fruitful furrow

The August Eclipse of the Sun

[From the Round Table.]

The singularly propitious conditions under which the solar eclipse of the 18th of August next will be observed promise to render it one of the most memorable in what we call the historical era, and the scientific world has long been engaged in making extensive preparations to study a natural phenomenon that will not be repeated in the same perfection and splendor for several centuries. On account of the great distance of the sun from the earth, his diameter will then appear comparatively small, while that of the moon on account of being at her nearest distance will appear correspondingly large. The moon will, moreover, be in the ascending mode of her orbit, so that her shadow must cross the Equator and materially prolong the duration of the darkness. Owing, as we have already remarked, to this rare union of favorable coincidences, the coming eclipse will be a total one—extending over a zone of 2,000 miles in length and thirty miles in width, and lasting six minutes and fifty seconds—a greater space of time than seen during thousands of years or to be seen again in hundreds to come. The eclipse will begin shortly after sunrise in the island of P[illegible] and at Aden, pass in the course of the [illegible] over upper India, reach T[illegible] at noon, be visible in the afternoon at [illegible], Borneo, the Celebes and some of the islands of the Moluccas group and close in the [illegible] New Guinea. To turn this memorable event to the best advantage a number of stations will be established at the different [illegible] traversed by the eclipse. The main object of these observations will of course, be [illegible] to those astronomical [illegible] are so [illegible] to me[illegible] and for which total eclipses are [illegible], because they afford the means of fixing the exact position of our two celestial luminaries. But there are many other important questions toward the solution of which the eclipse of the 18th of August is expected to furnish a key—such as a [illegible] of the semi-heliometer, a more accurate knowledge of zodiacal light, of the sun's photosphere, of the corona frequently noticed, and of his flaming projections and protuberances. Another highly interesting problem which may perhaps be solved is the cause of the disturbances in the orbit of Mercury, which justify a suspicion that an undiscovered planet exists between it and the sun, and that at such a proximity that it can neither be observed in the morning or evening twilight, nor in its transit across the sun's disc. In the eclipses of the past ten years the [illegible] could not be settled, for they required an eclipse of much longer duration. In view of the expected event, the European savans have already par[illegible] their work. The English are to [illegible] India, the French [illegible] and Malacca, the [illegible] the North Ger[illegible] to place a man[illegible] of [illegible] be no [illegible] of ob[illegible] to [illegible] date.

SMITH.—The following eloquent extract is from a speech which was not delivered during the late [illegible] in Oregon, but which might just as well been:

"Gen[illegible]," said a candidate for Congress "my name is Smith, and I am proud to say that I am not ashamed of it. It may be that no person in this crowd owns that very uncommon name. If however, there be such, let him hold up his head, pull up his dicky, turn out his toes take [illegible], and thank his stars that there are a few more left of the same sort.

[illegible] sions name,
And stands ever high in the annals of fame
Let [illegible] if they will,
Believe me that [illegible] will outnumber them still [illegible] I am proud of being an original Smith, and not a Smithe, nor a Smythe, but a [illegible] S m i t h, Smith. Putting a y into the [illegible] or an e at the end won't do, gentlemen. Who ever heard of a great man by the name of Smythe, or Smithe? Echo answers who? and every [illegible] says nobody. But for Smith, [illegible] Smith, why the pillars of fame are [illegible] with that honored, and revered name. Who were the [illegible], witty and popular Eu[illegible] of this [illegible]? Horace and Albert [illegible]. Who was the [illegible] original, pithy and [illegible]? Rev. Sydney Smith. To [illegible] who was the bravest and boldest [illegible] army in the revolution? A [illegible] was privileged with Powhattan and gal[illegible] Pocahontas, and [illegible] the ances[illegible] of the [illegible] in Virginia? A Smith [illegible] I ask the question [illegible] who, I say, is that man, [illegible] who has fought the most [illegible] preach [illegible] the most [illegible] sung [illegible] the best whisky, written the [illegible] the most women, [illegible] History says, I say, [illegible] says, Joe Smith.

The W[illegible] Jew.—The earliest mention of him is in the book of Chronicles of the Abbey of St Albans, England and the [illegible] of his visit there given as 1220. We next of him as appearing at the Royal Palace at [illegible], in 1505, to aid a weaver, Kohot's [illegible], in the Jew's [illegible], sixty years before. He is next heard of in the East where he is [illegible] with the Prophet Elijah. In 1547 he was seen in Europe by Paul Von [illegible], of [illegible], to whom he narrated the crucifixion of Christ. In 1575 he appeared to [illegible] soldiers in Spain. In 1640 he [illegible] walking in the woods adjacent to Brussels. In 1645 he is reported to have visited Leipsic. In 1648 he presented [illegible] to one General Wallis of Stamford, England and he gives a more specific description of the Jew than others who were favored with his company, and says: His coat was purple, and buttoned down to the waist; his [illegible]hes of the same color, all new to see; his [illegible] were very white, also his beard and [illegible], and had a white stick in his hand. The day was rainy from morning to night, but he had not one spot of dirt on his clothes. In 1721 he appeared at Munich. Numerous impostors or [illegible], assuming to be the Jew, appeared in England about the [illegible] of the seventeenth century and in the year 1818, 1824 and 1830. Since then he has [illegible] existed only in the imagination of [illegible] romancists as Sue and Croly.

THE GRAVES OF ATTILA AND ALARIC.—Attila died in 453 and was burried in the midst of a vast plain, in a coffin, the first covering of which was gold, the second of silver, and the third of iron. Along with the body were burried all the spoils of his enemies—harness enriched with gold and precious stones, rich stuffs and the most valuable articles taken from the palaces of the kings which he had pillaged, and that the place of his interment might not be known, the Huns put to death without exception all those who had assisted at his funeral. The Goths had previously done the same for Alaric who died in the year 410 at Cosenza a city of Calabria. They turned for some days the course of the river Vesoto, and having caused a trench to be dug in its former channel where the stream was unusually most rapid they buried the king there, along with immense treasures. They put to death all those who had assisted in digging the grave and restored the stream to its former bed.

There was much sound argument in the reply of the country lad to an idler, who boasted of his ancient family.

So much the worse for you said the ploughman as we plowmen say the older the seed the worse the crop

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Although the fame of this renowned [illegible] rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

[illegible] WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRI[illegible] in the United States or the world have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c, &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel is a direct infringement and copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel, and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice for I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing bluff, I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the best and [illegible] Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON D C, April 17 1868

MR A MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequence of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours

DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement whether our claims are used in whole or in part will be prosecuted.

THESE WHEELS EXCEL ANY OTHER WHEEL in use and are no infringement on the Leffel American Turbine, but excel it in every particular.

To all whom it may concern:—One A Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel and he will prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the Law. His statements are not worth a denial. His game is Bluff, which if he would only take the case to Court would soon be played out. Don't believe him.

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H W SHIPLEY

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, &c. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed in the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this predicament thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, blighting their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from European and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use. For Ten Dollars remitted in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn-to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and their places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J F GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.
Consultation FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

⁂ CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE

⁂ CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

⁂ IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of the Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and honesty will give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance the inquiry [illegible] be, Where is there a physician [illegible] to administer relief and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively [illegible] these requirements are, feels called upon to inform [illegible] and by calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for [illegible] ty years and is fully qualified to [illegible] in all cases, both medically and surgically, not [illegible] but in as thorough a manner [illegible] —both in hospitals and private [illegible] to save them from the hands of the [illegible] or designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble, in whose [illegible] the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise free. Cures guaranteed in all weakness and trouble incidental to the sex. Private apartments are provided when desired, [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor and the most skillful and faithful nurses.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior are often deterred from [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor incur the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint, will enable him to prescribe for them so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor and will be treated with the utmost confidence and either be returned or destroyed.

Consultation Free.
